

Department for Business, Energy and Industrial Strategy:
Consultation on Regulations to Implement Chapter 12 of the Free Trade Agreement between the UK and Norway, Iceland, and Liechtenstein

The Scottish Social Services Council is the regulator for the social work, social care and children and young people workforce in Scotland. Our work means the people of Scotland can count on social services being provided by a trusted, skilled and confident workforce.

We protect the public by registering the social work, social care and children and young people's workforce, setting standards for their practice, conduct, training and education and by supporting their professional development. Where people fall below the standards of practice and conduct we can investigate and take action.

We:

- publish the national codes of practice for people working in social services and their employers
- register people working in social services and make sure they adhere to the SSSC Codes of Practice
- promote and regulate the learning and development of the social service workforce
- are the national lead for workforce development and planning for social services in Scotland
- are an ONS statistics provider.

This section is about your routes or processes for the recognition of professional qualifications from Norway, Iceland and/or Liechtenstein.

3. Which profession(s) does your organisation regulate? Please add on separate lines all professions regulated by law for which your organisation is responsible. Some examples of these are listed in Annex II of the consultation document.

We are the workforce regulator for social work, social care and children and young people services in Scotland.

4. You may currently have an application route or process for professionals from Norway, Iceland and Liechtenstein (along with EU member states) under the 2015 Regulations. These will be revoked in December 2023. The following section seeks to understand what existing processes you might currently have outside of the 2015 Regulations. Aside from processes/routes for recognition of professional qualifications that depend on the 2015 Regulations, does your organisation currently have other processes/routes in place for applicants with qualifications from Norway, Iceland and/or Liechtenstein, such as a general registration process/route open to applicants from any country? A 'process/route' to 'recognise a professional qualification' is the process for handling applications from individuals with professional qualifications gained overseas and granting them permission to practice in the UK without requiring the individual to re-qualify in the UK or undertake mandatory training. It could be automatic or on a case-by-case basis and could include additional requirements such as aptitude tests.

7. [If Q4b] Do you already have any ongoing plans to introduce other processes/routes available to applicants with qualifications from Norway, Iceland and/or Liechtenstein (other than to specifically comply with the UK-EEA EFTA Agreement), before the 2015 Regulations are revoked in December 2023?

- a. Yes (please provide details)
- b. No

8. This section seeks to understand whether your existing processes/routes for recognition of professional qualifications (other than those that depend on the 2015 Regulations) already meet the terms of the UK-EEA EFTA Agreement (such as having an appeals process, allowing online payments, etc.). If they do not, we would like to understand whether you currently have the legal powers to introduce a new process/route which does. You may wish to read the 'FTA Provisions – Requirements on Relevant Authorities' section of the consultation document. For each of the articles of the UK-EEA EFTA Agreement listed below, please select which statement best describes your position for your existing processes/routes for recognition of professional qualifications (other than those that depend on the 2015 Regulations, as these will be revoked in December 2023).
