

Get your staff #SSSCregistered

New staff must apply to register with the SSSC within three months of starting their role.

Here's what you need to do:

- Make sure new staff apply on time.
- Give them all the details they need to apply as part of their induction.
- Support them with their application.

Did you know?

- If registration isn't complete within six months, new staff may not be able to continue working.
- We may hold information about people that means they may not be suitable for the role. The sooner they apply the sooner we can share that information with you.
- Employers and staff have joint responsibility to uphold the standards in the Codes of Practice for Social Service Workers and Employers.
